

What are SIM™ Micro-credentials?

Micro-credentials are digital certifications, earned by demonstrating a skill(s), using an online platform for posting a portfolio of evidence.

Why SIM Micro-credentials?

Micro-credentials can be shared on websites, resumes, social media, or elsewhere to provide evidence of certification and knowledge.

What Educators are Saying about SIM Micro-Credentials:

~The badge program is phenomenal! For someone who loves and needs a checklist to keep track of such a busy life, the badge program lends a streamlined platform to check off each evidence and share experiences with our network of SIM professional developers across the nation. SIM is truly the best kept secret in education, and I'm thrilled to have the opportunity to be a part of such an impactful organization.

~I truly appreciate that the credentialing program helps to recognize teachers for the work they do in the classroom (to bridge the gap for struggling learners) and to validate the need for this type of instructional model to build the necessary skills/strategies needed by our students.
